APPALACHIAN STATE UNIVERSITY

Working with Affiliate and Appalachian Partners

Many times faculty have their own contacts in the host country or have a partner already in mind which can make securing accommodations, classroom space, and local transportation easier. For faculty who do not have contacts already in place or for those who would like to compare costs, the Education Abroad office can assist with making connections. Some of our university partners have the capacity to help host faculty-led programs and many of our affiliate partners offer customized program services for short-term programs. Please contact Mark Hagen in the Education Abroad office, if you would like to explore working with a partner.

Appalachian Exchange Partners

For a list of current Appalachian exchange partners please visit the study abroad website. If you are interested in working with one of our partners please contact Mark Hagen so that he can make the preliminary connection with the institution. While not all of our partners will be able to assist with program logistics, many are able to help with housing, classroom space, and sometimes even collaboration with faculty.

Appalachian Affiliate Partners

Appalachian State currently sends students on semester and summer programs through the following affiliate partners. These partners also offer custom faculty-led program support.
